PHILIPPINES:

Southeast Asia's MICE Destination of Choice

For the past decade, the Philippines has seen significant growth for its MICE sector facilities. Business is thriving as more hotels and resorts are to be developed in key and emerging destinations, making the Philippines the go-to-hub in Southeast Asia. With five star properties, world-class entertainment centers, and new international airport to be built around the country, doors are now wide open for MICE planners to consider the Philippines as their next event destination.

In 2017, a total of nine MICE properties are set to open in Manila, Palawan and Boracay. Some of the notable MICE properties in Luzon are the Grand Hyatt Manila in Bonifacio Global City and Seda Vertis North in Quezon City, both boasting 438 hotel rooms, while the Savoy Hotel Boracay New Coast in Visayas will have 559 rooms. Scheduled to open in Manila in 2018 are eight MICE venues, some of which are the Mercure Manila Ermita that would have 500 hotel rooms and the Westin Manila Bayshore that would have an anticipated 600 rooms and nine function rooms; while nine venues are expected to open in 2019, two of which are SMX convention centers in Cebu and Clark.

The Philippines is also set to host an array of future symposia for 2018. Lined up are the Federation of Asian Pharmaceutical Associations (FAPA) Congress 2018, Asia Pacific Coral Reef Symposium, Congress of the Asian Pacific Society of Atherosclerosis and Vascular Disease (APSAVD), World Street Food Congress 2018, Asian Seed Congress and the Asian Development Bank's (ADB) 51st Annual Meeting of the Board of Governors, among others.

With all these developments and events, the Philippines is undoubtedly becoming the Southeast Asian Region's MICE destination of choice.

“Beyond bricks and mortar, venues now must provide an experience”

BUSINESS MODEL INNOVATION

If we've learnt anything in the last 12 months, it's that change is the only constant. As the business events industry across Asia Pacific continues to thrive, an evolving marketplace and ever-changing consumer demands are putting new pressure on venue and hotel management.

Just as event planners have become more agile to meet the shifting needs of attendees, venues must find ways to overcome hardware limitations in order to remain flexible and embrace innovation.

Beyond bricks and mortar, venues now must provide an 'experience' - with a focus on fresh, locally-sourced F&B, immersive audio-visual capabilities, and unique theming ideas that engage delegates.

The service offering extends far beyond the provision of four walls; today venue managers are adopting destination-marketing strategies that include a destination experience (both within and beyond the venue) and deliver wide-reaching economic and social value to the city.

And many venues across the region are rising to the challenge. Newly opened convention centres are harnessing fresh design trends that offer a sense of place and 'bring the outside in'. In Australia, for example, the International Convention Centre Sydney features glass exterior walls that overlook Darling Harbour and allow delegates to feel embedded into the city. And in Malaysia, Penang's Setia Spice Convention Centre is home to a sprawling six-acre landscaped roof garden, which can be used for cocktail functions.

Existing venues are also upping the ante, integrating new smart tech features to drive business amid increased digitisation. Suntec Singapore Convention and Exhibition Centre recently launched its ImmersiveAV Suite, which incorporates holographic projection technology, motion graphic overlays and live streaming across multiple screens. Meanwhile, hotel brands such as Mandarin Oriental, Hotel Jen and Sofitel, are welcoming humanoid robots to the fold to carry out butler-related tasks and playfully entertain guests.

This year's Venue Discovery features up-to-date details on all these and more, as well as contact information for local and regional industry bodies. Whether you're planning a board meeting, gala dinner, awards ceremony, conference or exhibition, you will find a new or established venue to suit your needs.

We do hope this directory, like previous editions, will become your definitive resource when planning meetings and events in the region.

EXCITING VENUE ADDITIONS

The venue landscape in Asia is easily the most dynamic market in the world. New and exciting venues seem to open every year at an unrelenting pace. Major developments have opened or set to open in the coming year in Australia, Malaysia, India, Thailand, China and Japan.

At the end of 2016, the Australian market received a boost following the December opening of ICC Sydney featuring close to 33,000 sqm of exhibition space. In Thailand, BITEC completed its expansion adding more than 21,000 sqm and increasing that venue's total capacity to 57,339 sqm.

In the coming months, Malaysia will add much needed 48,000 sqm of space with the opening of the MITEC venue in Kuala Lumpur. In India, the Bangalore International Exhibition Centre (BIEC) finished work on adding 17,500 sqm. And there is an additional 17,500 sqm planned for in 2018. That will bring BIEC's total to 75,000 sqm making it the largest venue in India—for the time being.

Looking ahead, there are even more significant and exciting changes on the horizon. In 2019, what will become the largest exhibition venue in Asia, the Shenzhen World Exhibition & Convention Centre will open. When fully completed, Shenzhen World will offer as much as 500,000 sqm of indoor space.

In Japan, the issues with the temporary closing of Tokyo Big Sight (TBS) and Makuhari Messe for the 2020 Summer Olympics continue to be the key focus of the industry. TBS will be closed for as long as seven months and parts of the venue will be affected for longer than that. On the positive side, TBS will eventually be expanded to have a total capacity of 116,000 sqm up from the original 80,000 sqm.

In Hong Kong, the new administration announced plans to redevelop a site across from the Hong Kong Convention & Exhibition Centre adding at least 23,000 sqm to the market. Although no completion date has been announced, it will come as a relief to many of the wall-bound events in Hong Kong.

What does all this change suggest? Firstly, that Asia remains the most exciting events market worldwide. Secondly, if venues are important to your business and your plans, then you need to keep a copy of the CEI Venue Discovery close at hand! I am confident that you will find it to be an impressively comprehensive and up-to-date resource throughout the year.

A longtime favorite of visiting ambassadors, writers, heads of state and business moguls, the French colonial-style Sofitel Legend Metropole Hanoi located within the downtown area, is just a short walk from Hoan Kiem lake and the Hanoi old quarter.

European luxury and warm Vietnamese hospitality commingle in the public areas, 364 guestrooms and suites (including three Legendary Suites in the historical Metropole wing and the Grand Premium rooms, Prestige Suites and Grand Prestige Suite in the contemporary Opera wing, offers access to Club Metropole), and Le Spa du Metropole.

Dining is a real treat - Le Beaulieu offers the finest French cuisine in town while the Spices Garden boasts traditional Vietnamese and Angelina offers innovative Italian. Le Club's "live" jazz performances every evening from Tuesday to Sunday make it Hanoi's "House of Jazz". Also worth a visit is the iconic Bamboo Bar and the rooftop garden Le Balcon.

The Metropole's "Path of History" provides a chronological and theme-based journey through its rich past via a dedicated timeline of historical events within the hotel and Hanoi since opening. In 2013, UNESCO has recognized hotel's bomb shelter in their Cultural Heritage Conversation - Honourable Mention award. Today, daily guided tours of the Path of History and the bomb shelter are offered exclusively for hotel's guests.
